The Word Family: -ip

Trace the words from the -ip family.

The tracing practice consists of two rows of handwriting lines. Each row has three 'dip' words. The first 'dip' in each row is solid black with a small dot above the 'i' and a vertical line extending from the bottom of the 'p' to the bottom line. The second and third 'dip' words in each row are dashed for tracing. The first row is followed by a second row of identical dashed 'dip' words. Below the second row is a blank set of handwriting lines (top solid, middle dotted, bottom solid) for independent practice.
