

School and Learning

Would you rather draw, paint, or color?	Would you rather never have homework or always get extra recess?	Would you rather have art class or gym class all day?
Would you rather only study math or only study reading?	Would you rather read a book or listen to a book?	Would you rather lose your eraser or the tip of your pencil?
Would you rather have scissors that didn't cut or glue that didn't stick?	Would you rather have the same teacher for your entire life or switch teachers every day?	Would you rather clean the school gym or organize all the books in the library?
Would you rather clean all the school's windows or repaint all of its walls?	Would you rather miss recess or lunch?	Would you rather scoot to class on your bottom or have to crawl there?
Would you rather play the teachers in a game of basketball or trivia?	Would you rather be the principal or a teacher for the day?	Would you rather carry a backpack full of bricks or wear shoes that squeak with every step all day at school?
